DRILLING COMMENCES AT BLICKS GOLD PROJECT

The Directors of Anchor Resources Limited are pleased to announce that drilling has commenced at the Blicks Gold Project in north east NSW.

At the project, the Tyringham gold prospect is interpreted to represent a large intrusion-related gold system and deposits of this type include multi-million ounce gold mines such as Fort Knox, Pogo and Donlin Creek (Alaska) and Kidston (Australia).

Past exploration has identified two separate gold-in-soil geochemical anomalies (Tyringham East and Tyringham West) which have been partially tested by 11 shallow reverse circulation holes to a maximum depth of 125m below surface – with encouraging results in 9 of these holes. The gold mineralization remains open at depth.

Anchor's current program consists of 2 to 3 diamond core oriented holes to depths of about 500m to test the down dip continuation of the gold system for both anomalies
